

Because caring is inherent in our culture...

Professional Compassionate In-Home Care for Seniors or the Disabled Means Living Independently, with Respect, Dignity, and Privacy

Meet the challenge of senior or disabled care without stress, disruption, or scheduling hassles. With a little extra help your loved-ones will be properly cared for with courtesy and professionalism.

When outside help is necessary, caring for an elderly loved-one presents very real challenges. Home is where the heart and memories live. But when an elderly or disabled person needs help, the mention of an outside caregiver is often met with stiff resistance.

And rightly so.

Decades of independence, the fear of burdening family, friends, or the community isn't what anyone wants. Knowing years of independent living are coming to an end is both frightening and depressing.

We want you to know there is an alternative...

Your loved-one can stay at home, safely.

You and your loved-ones become like our family members - treated with respect, dignity and consideration for your privacy

Al was wonderful. He was there to help me with my grandfather but seemed invisible when I needed my time. Thank you Al for being great. Margarida Erdson

I know how important this is, because I'm also in this position.

{PHOTO HERE} My name is Helen de Guzman-Macclang, administrator of CareResource, and I'm a client of my own business! You see, I'm in my 70's and partially disabled. I too need occasional help, and want to keep my independence and privacy. Aging and living with a disability gives me the ability to know how others feel, what their needs and desires are.

Let me give you a little personal history.

I moved to the United States with my daughters from the Philippines. Back home we have 22 family members in the medical profession as doctors and nurses. When it came time for me to choose an occupation, I chose pharmacy.

But my hearts' desire was to help people with hands-on care, because this comes naturally to me. I opened a home health agency in 1995. A few years later, this changed to non-medical home care because so many people needed personal care to stay independent in their homes.

While I still am the administrator of CareResource my daughter Monina now runs the day-to-day business. Monina's clarity of mission is perfectly adapted to this service, and her commitment to CareResource is deep and abiding.

This is what we share with you—our culture of caring, deep commitment, and love. This is why we say Caring is Inherent in Our Culture.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the excellent care Ellie Tatola gave to my husband John. She was always very professional and extremely competent, at the same time always respectful, kind and gentle with him. I know that he appreciated the exceptional consideration Ellie showed for his physical condition or emotional state at all times.

In addition, Ellie was reliable, prompt, helpful, neat and very respected by the hospice nurses who visited him. Our entire family recognizes that Ellie gave him the best care possible during those difficult last days.

D. Juergens
Pacifica, CA

With three generations deeply committed to the care of others, and a staff of people from similar cultural backgrounds, we bring our culture of caring to you

After a consultation and assessment, we tailor in-home scheduling with you and your family member based upon your needs. Scheduling is designed to cause as little disruption our clients' lives as possible.

Your needs determine the type and amount of care. If your family member needs someone to be there to help them start their day, or get them ready for bed, we can do that.

Service schedules include a few hours a day to 24-hour shifts, or live-in care. But it doesn't stop there...we personalize our services to meet your needs.

Some people need just a little assistance with daily living, like:

- bathing – safety and help in the bathroom
- dressing – difficult-to-put-on items
- grooming – hair, skin, nails
- meal preparation – help with feeding, ensuring adequate fluid intake
- light housekeeping – dusting, vacuuming, laundry, linens
- medication reminders – keeping on track with daily meds
- appointment escorts – getting to those appointments on time, safely
- companionship – hobbies, crafts, games, or just a friendly ear
- respite care – when the caregiver needs a break, is ill, or has other commitments
- safe assistance for persons with confusion, disorientation, mental health issues

...and more. We will be with your loved-one every step of the way, because this is what we do. We care. And by caring we give of ourselves to them.

Your service is reliable, professional, and personalized to the client. I was 110% satisfied and love all the ladies who cared for Vi with patience and love.

Norm Henry
Milpitas, CA

Our 5 C's mean you'll have quality service for your loved-one.

Because they depend on you – you can depend on us to give our very best. We honor your loved-ones with the 5 C's: caring, compassion, commitment, consideration and competency.

Often families are separated by distance, work, and a multitude of activities. Every day more families find themselves sandwiched between raising their own children and caring for parents or a disabled individual. Even in ideal circumstances outside help is the only viable option.

But you're never stuck with a single option. We can accommodate visits as brief as 1 ½ hour, or as long as 24-hour care. Additionally we provide:

- Couple Care – for both parents
- Respite Care – We can step in when the primary caregiver isn't available
- Hospice Care – We'll still be available to your loved-one at the end of life
- Hospital Sitters – We'll help when your loved-one needs extra attention

Never worry, our charges are variable, they depend on the type of service, and when and where it's provided. Costs are discussed and determined prior to beginning of care. We'll respond to all of your questions and provide additional information about our services.

Most people want to stay in their homes with their possessions, memories and independence. At CareResource we know how important this is.

Quality caregivers you can count on

Your loved-ones deserve quality care. This is why we go to great lengths to match caregivers to clients. Based on skill, experience, and professionalism, you can be sure we'll find a match that's perfectly suited to your situation and needs.

The best part, with our organized and professional team, our caregivers are managed and supervised. We emphasize an independent lifestyle for your loved-one, at home.

Care Resource is a significant quality company that I really relied on. It made my life easier. Thank you for getting me help every time we needed it.
D. Kirkland
San Mateo, CA

Thank you very much for all of your help. My brother is recovering very well. Thank you Serafino—he really did a great job. I'm very happy to know you! Thanks!
Eva
San Mateo, CA

Your agency gave me peace of mind with my mentally impaired parent, your caregivers are reliable and conscientious. With Myrna and Diva before her, I felt I gained an "Auntie".
J. Heselden
San Mateo, CA

Give yourself, and your loved-one peace of mind, and the ability to stay independent. We'll be an extra set of hands and eyes, with loving hearts caring for your family as if they were ours.

Sincerely,

Helen

Helen de Guzman-Macclang

P.S. If you have any questions or concerns please feel free to call our office or email us here \(LINK\)

{Business contact info here}

We were very pleased with Ana Monert. She was like part of our family.
R. Kauffman, M.D.
Daly City, CA

Your staff provided excellent and loving care to my friend Madeline. Their attention to her needs and concern for her well-being could not, in my judgment, have been better or more professional. Madeline was at ease with them. As she once remarked to me, "I don't know what I'd do if I didn't have these 'girls' to talk to."

That said, I must add, you and members of your office staff could not have been more courteous to me, or more helpful. I greatly benefited by the services of Care Resource.

P. M. Hupf
Daly City, CA